

Caso di Natalee

Safety in Aruba

After seeing the way Natalee's case has been handled, and the treatment of the Holloway's as Bullies when they're just trying to get answers leads me to believe that ARUBA IS NOT A SAFE PLACE TO SEND YOUR KIDS, or, for that matter, for anyone that's not an Aruban citizen.

These guys weren't arrested for 10 days, had daily briefings from the father-judge and were given so much latitude to cover up. How can a spontaneous, possible violent action, with only a few hours time, with people that were highly intoxicated, take place in the dark and not leave any evidence? Not a fingerprint, a hair strand, no DNA...and, most importantly, no body??? It smacks of a cover-up and anti-American sentiment.

It's been 10 weeks for godsakes and the investigation is slowing down rather than coming up with conclusions, resolution and closure?? There's an 18-year-old girl with a brilliant future ahead of her (to quote Joran's mother) who visited Aruba and disappeared into thin air and no one's talking. How can anyone not see the immorality of this? Who's going to send their kids to Aruba?

Jan Levine.